Dear Katherine Maher,

After receiving several emails asking how to find the Jack Schwarz Wikipedia Article, we – at the Aletheia Foundation – began to realize that the article had shockingly been deleted in July, 2016. NO notification had been given of this~!!

The Jack Schwarz Article was started lovingly by Jock McKeen and Bennet Wong in 2007, two well known psychiatrists from Vancouver, BC. Many people over the years appreciated that Jack Schwarz was part of Wikipedia. Then we find that in June of 2016 five unknown people decided to hack the Jack Schwarz Article. Ignorance is Bliss!

Why were we not told of this? These hackers used such words as: “Quack Guru”, “Ugh, the referencing is a beast”, “Fringe?”, “miracles”, “World Cat show”, misspelled Schwarz-t-z, and questioned Jack’s 12 years of military service in the Royal Dutch Military. How dare they? And this is why it was deleted!?

Jack Schwarz came to the United States in 1957 from The Netherlands and helped to found the Aletheia Foundation, a non-profit foundation much like the Wikimedia Foundation. It was incorporated with the help of the well known San Francisco attorney, Leonard Worthington in 1969 dedicated to self-health research and education.

Because we appreciate the importance of Wikimedia and its value to true understanding in this world of ours, I would like to ask your help in rectifying this error of deletion.

I first met Jack Schwarz in 1968 at a lecture in Oakland. I was born in San Francisco and raised in the Bay Area. I became his partner in late, 1968 and later his wife. Jack was very humble and a true visionary. His main message was to live “Divine Love” and through Divine Love everything is possible. I like to say, “Make sure you are coming from your Heart at all times and not your gut!”

Thank you for your time taken in this matter.

With appreciation and love,

Lois A Scheller Schwarz
President
